

Required Project Permits*

The final EIS is an impartial document used by agencies to consider impacts, alternatives, and mitigation before making permit decisions. Permits cannot be approved until after the EIS has been completed.

*Additional permits and requirements from Ecology and other agencies may be required.

Ecology Permit

Local or other agency permit

Air

Prevention of Significant Deterioration
Permit (Federal, administered by Ecology

Notice of Construction

Water

Construction Stormwater

Industrial User
Pretreatment
permit
(City of Newport)

Other

Several additional local permits may be required including a Building Permit and Site Grading Permit

Air Operating
Permit